MUSA Policy

Summary of party policy positions · Version 1.0 · October 2026 · Party code 813

This document summarises MUSA's policy positions as set out in the Statement of Ideology (1 April 2026) and the Manifesto. MUSA's ideology is Transformative Democratic Socialism — a Centre-Left, people-centred approach founded on the conviction that "political power, without economic emancipation, is meaningless."

Vision: To transform Kenya into a just, modern, prosperous nation; a country united in pursuit of equity for all Kenyans.
Mission: To build a social, democratic state in which all Kenyans will have a better life, and to inspire, equip and facilitate Kenyans to transform their own lives.

Core principles

- Patriotism and loyalty to the Constitution (Article 10 and Chapter Six).
- Accountability, ethical leadership and zero tolerance to corruption.
- Social justice and equity, with focus on marginalised and vulnerable groups.
- People-centred democracy, national unity and multiculturalism.
- Pan-Africanism and regional integration; inclusive economic empowerment.

Pillar 1 — Social services, human dignity and equity

- Universal Basic Social Services: healthcare, basic education, water, sanitation and social protection.
- Recruit more health workers and teachers; close the national classroom deficit (~91,000 classrooms).
- Expand cash transfers for older persons, persons with disabilities and vulnerable households.
- Equity-based budgeting that prioritises historically underserved counties and informal settlements.
- Affordable housing, universal design in public buildings, and expanded legal aid.

Pillar 2 — Economic justice, employment and inclusive growth

- Grow manufacturing's share of GDP towards 15% through county industrial parks and agro-processing.
- Formalise millions of MSMEs, simplify licensing and double SME access to formal credit.
- Expand TVET enrolment and support youth-led enterprises.
- Stronger labour standards and social protection for informal workers; green and climate-resilient growth.

Pillar 3 — Governance, accountability and rule of law

- Transparent public finance and procurement, with stronger oversight and anti-corruption enforcement.
- Efficient, digital public services (land, licensing, permits).
- Wider access to justice, especially in rural areas.
- Evidence- and data-driven policy, with regular public reporting.
